The Founder of this business, Mark Foy, an Irishman of strong character and business acumen, after following the fortunes of the Bendigo Gold Diggers in the sixties, removed his little iron store on Back Creek to the Flats at Collingwood, then a rising suburb of Melbourne.

When Mark Foy advertised his first "Fair" he was the first merchant to use that picturesque and happy description for what had previously been known in the history of retailing as "Sales."

When he opened his first Fair in Smith Street, Collingwood, it was the beginning of real things in the history of this enterprise. The original and startling methods of advertising used in announcing this great event aroused great curiosity throughout the City of Melbourne and Suburbs, and thousands flocked from every quarter to witness the opening.

Mark Foy shut down shop for four days prior to the opening day, preparing bargains for the huge crowds that besieged the doors and windows. So great was the crowd on the opening day that the police—this was long before the days of trams or motor cars—had to divert the bus traffic into side streets.

The Crowds thronged to Foy's. They have thronged to Foy's ever since!

In less than ten years after William Gibson had acquired (1885) sole control, the business of Foy & Gibson had multiplied tenfold.

He bettered the undoubtedly fine bargain giving initiated by Mark Foy by going to the source of all Bargains—the Manufacturers themselves—passing over all wholesale intermediaries and middle men. To achieve this end, Australian buyers were sent periodically to the Home Markets to purchase and ship goods direct from the Manufacturers, to be sold direct to the public.

This was viewed in commercial circles with much misgiving, but Foy & Gibson's buyers bought with an understanding. They bought only goods of sterling quality and worth, and they bought for cash.

Much of the future success of the business was due to this bold departure from accepted methods of trade, and the adoption of direct buying from Manufacturers and the ability to foresee the needs of customers.

In those early days, Mark Foy—one of those sturdy, wonderful old Merchants of early Colonial days—directed the enterprise with a commercial genius, far-seeing vision, and high integrity. Under William Gibson's unfettered control, the business rapidly grew towards the mammoth undertaking it is to-day, still dominated by that spirit of progress, enterprise, and self-confidence.

In 1896 Foy & Gibson opened their first fair in Hay St. premises, and the same marvellous success has attended Fairs in the Eastern States, and each succeeding Fair here has increased in magnitude.

And so it is that Foy & Gibson's Fairs have become known throughout the length and breadth of the land, growing in public favour and esteem year by year and are unhesitatingly accepted as the State's greatest selling events.

This Fair not only marks another epoch-making event, but affords a welcome opportunity for securing extraordinary bargains. The outstanding feature is the thoroughness and care exercised in its preparation. Months ago, we planned our lists of the goods most needed by the Public, and orders on a lavish scale were sent to all the great manufacturing centres of the world. Buyers were sent forth to search out all that was newest and best and during the past weeks huge shipments of the best Merchandise from Britain, Europe, the United States, and the Commonwealth of Australia have arrived for our Summer Fair. An inspection of every article, from the lowest priced to the highest, will speedily convince you that Foy's Summer Fair offers a real chance to save money—truly the Mecca of Bargain Seekers.

THE CHILDREN’S CORNER.

JANUARY.

(Conducted Monthly by UNCLE GIB.)

My Dear Nieces and Nephews,—

"Uncle Gib" must first greet you all with a Happy New Year. And what a jolly time we all had at Christmas—with many nice things to eat, and dear old Santa Claus’ visits! This dear old gentlemen has had a royal time in Toyland, and as some of my nieces and nephews wished to receive a Christmas Souvenir Button, I delivered their message to Father Christmas, and so “Uncle Gib” was able to post away the buttons to their homes.

Hundreds and hundreds of children visited the old gentleman, and now he is right back home—very tired, but soon to get busy again with his Fairy friends and preparing for his next visit; yes, many of us will kindly remember Father Christmas.

Several letters have been received from my nieces and nephews during the month, including the Prize Winners. Phyllis Kingsley has sent a snapshot of the Tractor and Harvester reaping the wheat at “Prospect Vale” Farm, Kuningoppin, and I hope to publish this in the February issue, which will be of interest to all.

I also received snaps from Daisy and Amy Goodchild.

What a wonderful time the holidays are, and with several weeks yet to go before the school bell rings again, I hope all my nieces and nephews are having a jolly time. It is such a long holiday, and lovely bright weather, and even we older folk look forward to our holidays.

As the January issue of the Gazette becomes being given over to chronicling the Bargains at the coming Fair, my space is limited, but in February, when school resumes, we shall be busy again. Uncle Gib will be pleased to hear how you enjoyed your holidays, and I suppose many will be starting school for the first time.

A jolly and happy time during your holidays, children, and cheerio.

UNCLE GIB.

Bobby was given a piece of wedding cake at his aunt's wedding. The next morning his mother asked, "Bobby, did you sleep with the wedding cake under your pillow and dream of your future wife?" Bobby, "No, I didn’t. I ate the cake!"

"Cause when I grow up I want my wife to be a surprise." —Holmes Store News.
