THE BEST COSTS LESS AT FOY'S

Edited by "G.G." in his Sanctum at FOY & GIBSON PTY. LTD. PERTH
Thrifty Citizens draw money from the bank to save at the Greatest Shopping Event of the Season.

Seasons come and seasons go, and to live we must have the usual amenities of life—food, clothes, household needs, comforts, entertainment. Some folk are easily satisfied and can manage on a small income, whilst others require a large proportion of life's comforts to make it even tolerable. But thousands of either class draw money from their banks, that they may reap the rewards of shopping safely and buying wisely at this feast of bargains.

Foy & Gibson's Winter Fair opens in July and is to thousands and thousands of citizens an announcement as important as the cable news of some thrilling event. Shopping to-day is far removed from a perfunctory duty; it causes either jubilation or regret. Those who shop confidently are much more likely to get what they need, to obtain it more expeditiously, than are they who shop with anxiety or distrust. Since 1896, the first year of Foy & Gibson's Fair, the public confidence has been sought and maintained. The selling policy of this great store is almost proverbial, and shoppers know that here they obtain what they need at prices kept consistently low, with high quality. This Fair is a clarion call to still greater savings.

Months ago we planned for this great event, and months ago our buyers were speeding across the Globe, placing orders on an immense scale. In the crowded streets of many industrial centres in Great Britain workers have learnt of this great Fair, for to them it meant employment; whilst in some small European hamlet, off the beaten tourist track, orders meant weeks of activity. In the sweltering tropics, in the Canadian forests, North, South, East, or West, our orders have speeded the 'wheels of commerce.' During the past weeks huge shipments have arrived from overseas and from the Eastern States, and the increasing volume of incoming goods is noticeable, particularly in "Gibsonia" Woollen Goods, Underwear, Blankets, Rugs, Dress Fabrics, Men's Wear, Suits—all products of the famous "Gibsonia" Mills, the largest and best-equipped in the Commonwealth. All "Gibsonia" goods are to be sold at Winter Fair Prices—special bargains much sought after. Bought on a tremendous scale, and bought for cash, these wanted goods of every description are offered now. Here is a real chance, which it needs no superlatives to point out, and a genuine opportunity to save money is presented.

An inspection of every article, large and small, fashionable or of everyday utility, reveals a bargain—yours for the choosing, either personally or through the pages of this "Gazette." Please place your orders now to avoid disappointment, though we have made every endeavour to facilitate despatch, even to an augmented staff, which, dealing entirely with Country Residents' orders, will be kept hard at it to cope with the tremendous rush of business. Ladies and Gentlemen, come to the Fair, if possible—if not, use the nearest Post Box early!

CHILDREN’S CORNER
Conducted Monthly by Uncle Gib.

My Dear Nieces and Nephews:

Fair-time again! "The Gazette" pages are devoted to bargains of special interest to mother. "Newsy Notes, Home Hints," and the conclusion of a trip to the South Coast ports are held over until the August issue. Many of my little friends of the Correspondence Classes (Education Department), will regret to learn that Mr. Eakins, Principal of the classes, has been an inmate of Warwick Hospital, Perth. Uncle Gib was delighted to find Mr. Eakins well on the road to recovery, and is sure all join in wishing the Principal a speedy convalescence. In a book entitled "MacRobertson Aroad" the following article, regarding the town of Jaela, Colombian, where Master M. D. George, one of our correspondents, resides, appears:—"I have been keen to see a coconut works in full swing, so it was decided that we motor out to Negombo—26 miles, take lunch at the rest house there, calling in and seeing a coconut plant at work on the way out. In due course we arrive at St. Nicholas' coconut plant, where thousands of coconuts were stored. The natives take the green coconuts and deftly remove the outer fibre, and the coconut, in its shell, is passed on to another batch of men, who, with a very small hammer and hatchet, chip off the hard shell, and do not break the inner coconut fruit. Then, with a tool like a spokeshave, the women peel off the brown skin from the nut, and the peeled nuts are thrown into tanks of clean running water. The nuts are then passed into a double disc machine, and this, travelling at a speed of 3,000 revolutions per minute, desiccates the coconut. It is then fed into metal trays and passed through an oven, and comes out at the other end in less than half-an-hour, almost bone dry. It is beautifully white. Cases lined with metal are waiting to receive the white desiccated coconut, and I learned that a ton of coconuts, or any given quantity, is ready for packing in less than two hours after the nuts are opened. The factory I saw is very up-to-date, and to my mind, there was little room for improvement.

These works are in the town of Jaela." With kind regards to you all, cheerio.

BERTHA BLECHYNDEN — "Glandutloch," via Bridgetown

Dear Uncle Gib,—I hope you will accept me as a new link. I am fourteen years old, and in the seventh class at school. I live just on two miles from school, but every morning I meet our teacher at the gate which leads into our place. In the afternoons I also get a ride as far as the gate. Our teacher has been sick for four weeks now, and will not be coming to teach this week, either; so that means a good holiday for the pupils. Every night and morning I milk two cows. The rest of the day I spend inside helping my mother: but sometimes I go and help my father, too. When is your birthday? Mine is on the 29th of November. "The Boy's Essay on Girls," which John Foxton sent in last month, is not had, and the last two lines are quite true (at our school, any way)! We have a big ginger cat which weighs about eleven pounds; he is a good mouser and sometimes he catches rabbits. We have also a kelpie dog, which is very playful. I am sending some riddles to you, if you care to publish them, and space will allow it. I like reading the interesting letter, which you write to your nieces and nephews every month. I also like reading the letters which they write to you. Well, uncle, I must close for this time, looking to get a letter from you very soon, accepting me as one of your nieces.

H. MICHAEL DE SILVA
Kandana, Ceylon

Dear Uncle Gib,—I am very sorry to inform you that one of my letters, which told you about the Colombo tramway strike, has not been published in the “Gazette,” and I am very anxious to know why we haven’t received our “Gazette” yet. Now it is our summer season, and we have already begun our month of May. In this month all the flower trees are full of scenting blossoms. Dear uncle, I think the following news will be interesting and delightful for you; that is: A mistress, who often writes to me, told me that she and her husband would come to see me when they came to pay a visit to Ceylon. So, dear uncle, as there is nothing else to say, I close my letter, wishing you all the best of health.

Dear Uncle Gib,—I now take the pleasure of writing these few lines to you. I hope you are in the best of health, as this brings me O.K. I had a very nice time over in the Eleceral States. I saw a lot of different places, also the Murray River; and went it was February and very dusty in places; but that's no-day and got a hilly-full. I might go again now as the rain has come. Uncle, I think I had better close my letter. I am sorry forgot to tell you about the mushrooms. I was out the other out. Ile is working the tractor. I am enclosing my cousin's address and the crops that are up look nice. There will be plenty of feed up thing—we have dust here, too. Well, uncle, the crops are coming we went it was February and very dusty in places; but that's no-time as they were taken with another camera, but I don't think sending you some, uncle, to put in the corner, as just about every-
