

SCHOOL FOR MODERN ORIENTAL STUDIES,

ESTABLISHED BY THE IMPERIAL INSTITUTE IN UNION WITH UNIVERSITY COLLEGE AND KING'S COLLEGE, LONDON.

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed for the organization of a School in London, designed both for giving instruction in Modern Oriental Languages, and also for the pursuit of studies relating to the History, Literature, Commercial and Physical Geography, Political Economy, and the Natural and Industrial Resources of the Countries and Districts in which the various Languages are used.

It is in contemplation to arrange for the delivery of Special Lectures or Courses of Lectures from time to time, in connection with the School, by Experts or Specialists in any of the foregoing subjects.

The Classes which the "School of Modern Oriental Studies" comprises, are divided under two heads:—

DIVISION I. includes Classes for all Oriental Languages especially required by Students qualifying for examinations for the Indian Civil Service, the instruction being of the same character as that provided for some time past at University College and at King's College.

The Classes will from the commencement of the Autumn Term of 1889 be continued at University College, and will be conducted under Regulations common to the other Classes which combine with them to constitute the general School. This Division includes instruction in Sanscrit, Bengali, Hindi, Hindustani, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi, Pali, Marathi, Gujarati, Arabic, and Persian.

DIVISION II. consists mainly of Classes for Modern Oriental Languages other than the Indian Languages.

The Courses of Tuition will be of a practical rather than of an academic character; they will have particular reference to commercial and official requirements, and to the facilitation of colloquial intercourse with natives of Oriental countries.

It is in contemplation, so soon as the number of Students warrants the expenditure, to secure the services of native Readers and Teachers of conversation in connection with the Classes of this Division.

The Languages to be taught in Division II. comprise Colloquial Arabic, Modern Greek, Colloquial Persian, Russian, Turkish, Chinese, Burmese, Japanese, Malay, and Swaheli. The Classes under this Division will be conducted at King's College, where arrangements will also be made for the establishment of Evening Classes.

Further information may be obtained from the Registrar of this University.
